Summary

Hey Mate!

Thanks for stopping by. Let's take you through my journey.

I am a Sales and Product Manager with 8+ years of experience leading product strategy and driving revenue growth. Expertise in data analytics, user research, and UI/UX.

- Passionate about building and growing products that solve real-world problems and delight users.
- Proven track record of success in scaling products across different industries and platforms.
- Deep understanding of the product development lifecycle, from ideation to execution to launch.
- Skilled in data analytics, user research, and UI/UX to create products that users love.
- Passionate about product growth and revenue generation strategies.

Currently working with TimesPro- a leading EdTech, heading the tech product portfolio. KRAs encompass Program curation, training, sales, and growth.

What do I do apart from work?

I am a career and product mentor. I bring my expertise in various aspects to help people upskill and advance in their careers. I have counselled over 500 aspirants and helped them take their first step into data science, AI and product management roles.
